WOVEN SCROLL

Designed together by Steve and Christina Roberts and inspired by our woven leather range, they combined the Leather scroll with our very popular and trademarked resin material “Amalfine™” to make the Woven Scroll.

Created using a flexible silicone rubber mould that offers fingerprint detailing, it looks exactly like the leather scroll it was cast from, but is also beautifully robust. To the touch it is almost impossible to tell the difference from real leather as it is warm and tactile.

This range is suitable for clients who do not wish their handles to change with age and are great for covering up pre-existing drilled holes as the metal base is solid, so also good for refit projects.
